

Hi All,

Welcome to my last newsletter for 2019, I am getting in early and it will be a short one. I hope it finds you all healthy, happy and working your way slowly into the festive season.

With the horror start to summer with so many bushfires all around Australia, please stay safe. Tony and I are thinking of you all.

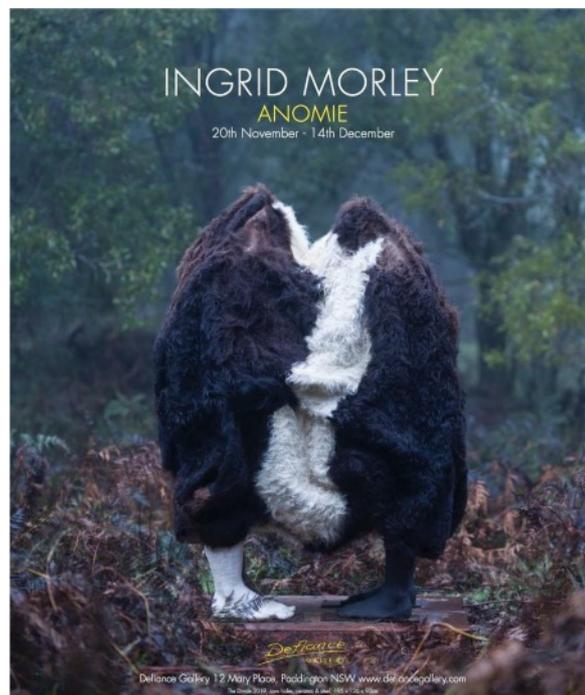

Beef and Lamb availability: Their will be limited beef available throughout next year with all our very regular customers getting looked after first. We only have 2 lambs available for January, but they will have to be picked up from the butcher direct at Strath Pastoral. They will be available for pick up on Thursday the 16th/and or Friday the 17th January. One is spoken for so, there is only one available. There will be none then till April/May 2020.

Average Weights: Due to downsizing our cattle numbers, we didn't send any beef off this quarter but our average lamb weight for 11 month olds were 26 kgs.

Something rather different and special: Along with another Belted Galloway hide, Ingrid has utilised one of ours in her unique sculpture that is featured in her solo exhibition ANOMIE, incorporating Sculpture, Installation, Drawing and Painting that she has been creating over the last 3 years in Jenolan NSW.

ANOMIE

/def: in societies or individuals, a condition of instability resulting from a breakdown of standards and values or from a lack of purpose or ideals

The exhibition is at the Defiance Gallery www.defiancegallery.com in Paddington, Sydney and runs from the 20th November through to the 14th December and promises to be very interesting.

If you are fortunate enough to make it, please say Hi for me. We were invited to her opening on the 17th but unfortunately were tied up with other aspects of the farm like taking some lambs for their last ride.

Told you is what going to be a short one 😊

Tony and I wish you all a very Merry and safe Christmas and a prosperous and Happy 2020.
Best Wishes,
